Supervisor Burke made the following statement:

“Libraries are part of the American Dream – places for opportunity, education, self-help and lifelong learning – and our Nation’s libraries help people change their world. Libraries play a vital role by providing millions of people with the resources they need to live, learn and work in the 21st century. Libraries bring you a world of knowledge both in person and online, as well as personal service and assistance in finding what you need, when you need it.

“The County of Los Angeles Public Library joins libraries, librarians, library workers and supporters across America in celebrating National Library Week.”

Therefore, on motion of Supervisor Burke, seconded by Supervisor Antonovich, unanimously carried (Supervisors Molina and Yaroslavsky being absent), the Board proclaimed April 2 through 8, 2006, as “National Library Week” throughout Los Angeles County; and encouraged all residents to take advantage of all that their library has to offer and to discover the many ways they can change their world at the library.
